LEATHER DESCRIPTION

Properties and finish:

This article is an aniline leather with a special wax on top, made on the best German cow skins. The combination of 2 natural products, a cowhide and beeswax, makes this a very special leather. The leather is tanned with natural minerals and dyed in drums with high quality dyes. In order to emphasize nature, natural characteristics are experienced as an extra.

These natural characteristics should be processed visibly. Characteristic for this aniline leather is the (possible) difference in colour within a batch or even per skin. The leather has no finish so that natural features such as scars, mosquito bites and small blemishes remain visible. These irregularities give this leather a tough and natural character.

Maintenance:

The leather can be protected with a suitable spray. Due to the strong wax layer, no cleaners are allowed.

We recommend the following products:

Instructions for use

Dust the leather weekly with a dry, soft lint-free cloth. No cleaners are allowed on this leather.

These could affect the special wax.

The leather can be protected with Keralux spray N with UV filter.

A special colorless lotion has been developed for maintenance. You use the lotion together with the corresponding color cloth, made of original Sadie leather. This color is available on request.
